Police step up hunt for bookies gunman

Visitors hit the right notes

MUSICIANS from all over Europe have brought music to town.

Musicians arrived from Austria, Belgium, the Czech Republic, Germany, Hungary, Switzerland and across the UK to take part in this year's Haverhill Sinfonia Soloist Competition.

The 18th competition took place at Haverhill Arts Centre.

What began as a modest competition is now a prestigious annual international event, which this year attracted 171 entrants of 33 nationalities.

Winner of the First Prize was Ukrainian pianist, Sasha Grynyuk.

THE hunt for the betting shop bandit behind gunpoint raids in Cambridge and Haverhill is gathering pace.

Detectives have been collecting more evidence in an effort to end the gunman's two-year armed robbery spree which has netted an estimated £31,000 from 21 raids.

Despite a £10,000 reward offer from the Association of British Bookmakers for help in catching him, and an appeal on BBC's Crimewatch, he is still on the loose.

The robber has evaded police by using various disguises, but detectives have now built up a description and released several CCTV images.

The raids include one at a Cambridge branch of Ladbrokes on April 2, when he forced employees to hand over cash at gunpoint before pushing them into a toilet.

On May 27, Ladbrokes, in Camps Road, Haverhill was attacked by the robber for a second time.

There he threatened two female members of staff and a female customer with a handgun and demanded money.

All three women were left shaken. The robbery was a carbon copy of a February 7 raid at the same shop. The raider is believed to have struck at another Ladbrokes branch in Jubilee Walk on New Year's Day.

The Metropolitan Police Flying Squad is leading the investigation, which spans seven police forces.

A Met Police spokesman said: "The robberies usually occur as the shop is closing. He often uses disguises including caps, sunglasses, hoods or builder's high visibility jackets."

Mum praises conker kid's female rescuer

BY Ben Lee

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE Weekly News has tracked down the guardian angel who helped a blood soaked five-year-old boy after a brick thrown to dislodge conkers landed on his head.

Michael Devonshire's mother, Christina, wanted to publicly thank the woman for rushing to the aid of her hysterical son.

Michael had gone hunting for conkers with his 10-year-old sister Catherine and a group of children on the recreation ground in Camps Road, Haverhill.

But disaster struck when a heavy brick thrown into the air came down on Michael's little head - leaving him with blood gushing from his scalp.

Samantha Notley, of Woodcock Close, Haverhill, who was at the recreation ground with her two children at the time, said it took a few seconds for her to realise what was happening.

She said: "I thought he had face paint on at first but then I saw it was blood. I took one look at my husband and scooped him up in my arms.

"I just did what any normal person would have done."

Mrs Notley was unable to call 999 from anywhere at the recreation ground so the Papworth Trust employee rushed him to the nearest doctor's surgery.

She said: "He was hysterical but what child wouldn't be. I just held his hand."

The mother-of-two made sure he was okay but then left before Christina arrived and could say thank you.

But thanks to the Weekly News the pair were brought together at the scene of the accident.

Christina, of Cavendish Court, said: "I just want to say thank you so much to Samantha.

"It was just one of those silly things that kids do and Michael just happened to be in the wrong place at the wrong time. But I am so glad she was there.

"When I got to the doctors he was bandaged up but there was still blood coming from his head. Michael doesn't like blood."

The brave youngster was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, in Cambridge, where staff stuck the three-inch cut together.

He is now back at Clements Primary School, in Haverhill.

Christina added: "It is a lesson for children to be careful when looking for conkers. Michael won't do it again."

Firm's redundancy fight brings £25,000 legal bill

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE new owners who took over the brand name of Haverhill-based Project Office Furniture have been left with a huge bill.

The legal costs were incurred defending claims for compensation by workers hit by the collapse of the company last year.

But OEP Furniture Group Plc of Rookwood Way, has been told by a tribunal in Bury St Edmunds that it cannot reclaim the £25,744 it spent on barristers and solicitors fees in defending the claims and establishing who was liable to pay the redundant staff.

Twelve workers who lost their jobs when Workspace Solutions collapsed were given the go-ahead earlier this year to launch a legal challenge to claim unpaid wages and redundancy money. This case is still to be heard.

A further 11 former sales staff lost out because they were made redundant before the new owners took over.

The company had been trying to get the cash from the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI), which became involved after Project's parent company became insolvent.

In August an employment tribunal sitting at Bury St Edmunds heard submissions from OEP Furniture Group Plc and representatives of the DTI. The three-member tribunal panel has now issued its judgment, in which the application for costs against the DTI is unanimously refused.

OEP Furniture Group plc had argued it only became involved because the DTI had told the redundant workers they should name the company in their claims.

Project Office Furniture was put up for sale when its parent company, Workspace Office Solutions Ltd, called in administrators following financial difficulties resulting from a pension fund deficit. The purchase of part of the business by OEP had represented the transfer of a going concern, the tribunal ruled at the earlier hearing, despite denials by the company.

OEP maintained it had purchased the brand name and order book of Project Office Furniture, which did not amount to a transfer of undertaking and it was not responsible for any of the staff who lost their jobs.

Project was one of the first businesses to move to a greenfield site in Hamlet Green, Haverhill in 1977, and a management buy-out was considered but failed to get off the ground.

He is believed to be in his early 50s, with craggy skin, grey hair and a scar from his left nostril across his cheek. His getaway car is thought to be a dark Rover 400 with plates cloned in Staffordshire. Police believe he may live in Harrow or Barnet.

Det Chief Insp Harry Hennigan, from Finchley Flying Squad, said: "The images give the public the opportunity to help solve a number of robberies."

"They show clear, distinctive features we believe would identify the man if you knew him. We believe this man has committed a substantial number of robberies across the country. Although he has not caused any direct serious injury, he has caused an enormous amount of distress to the people he has threatened. It also has a

Rugby lads vouch for their new kit

RUGBY players are scrubbing up better now they have a new kit. The proud players at Castle Hill Middle School, in Burton End, Haverhill, have bought a new school kit after cashing in their supermarket school vouchers. After spending their Sainsbury's and Tesco vouchers on some new equipment the money saved was spent on the kit.

Rob Dovaston, head of PE and sport, said: "Thanks to the vouchers we were able to spend some PE funds on a nice kit, as we had always worn a real mixture of shirts until now. "Team morale and numbers at training have risen and we look forward to surpassing our fourth position in the West Suffolk competition this year."

Staff bid for costs

TOWN councillors are being asked to approve one-off compensation payments for staff suffering loss or damage to their personal property while at work.

Haverhill Town Council's personnel committee will be asked to approve the ex-gratia payments to two members of staff working at Haverhill Arts Centre.

A report to the committee said one staff member had a mobile phone stolen from her jacket while she was taking cardboard out to a bin. The phone, worth £150, has not been recovered.

Another employee's jacket pocket ripped when it became caught in a table leg while they were moving tables. The cost of a replacement jacket was £65. Neither case was due to negligence, and both sums were less than the excess charge on the council's insurance.

Dr Andrew Cornish celebrates his quarter of a century at the Christmas Maltings and Clements surgery in Haverhill with his wife, Lindsey, surgery staff and friends.

Surprise celebration for doctor

DOCTOR Andrew Cornish celebrated 25 years at his surgery with an unexpectedly busy lunch. Staff and fellow doctors marked his quarter of a century with a surprise buffet lunch in his honour at the Greenfields Way surgery in Haverhill. Dr Cornish has been at the Christmas Maltings and Clements surgery for much of his career and is a senior partner. Alison Couldry, deputy practice manager, helped spring the surprise. She said: "He is a really good family doctor and is very well known in the area. It is quite an achievement and some of the patients have been seeing him all this time. They love him."

'Mend hall roof' as rain stops play again

FRUSTRATED footballers at Haverhill say they are sick of having their indoor football sessions "rained off" because of a leaky roof.

Tom Ayre and his team say they have been left twiddling their thumbs at home "for the umpteenth time this year" because of a leak in the main hall at Haverhill Leisure Centre.

Mr Ayre, of Snowdon Court, Haverhill, said the roof had been a problem for years and he criticised council chiefs for spending money on a new cinema and fast food outlets but not keeping the leisure centre in good repair.

Mr Ayre said: "It would be laughable if it wasn't so frustrating. This is all because St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Abbeycroft Leisure have continually failed to address the fact that whenever it rains harder than a slight shower, water leaks via the dilapidated roof down the inside walls of the main sports hall."

Mr Ayres said he was concerned about further disruption during the coming winter months and

"band-aid" refurbishments taking place.

He said: The reality is that we are faced with a cosmetic tarring up while millions are being spent just yards away on a multi-screen cinema and three fast food outlets.

"I find it incredible that the go ahead should be given for these outlets when the town is already bursting at the seams with them. While the centre, a place we should all be encouraged to maximise the use of, continues to resemble a location shoot from Life on Mars."

Alison Bowyer, chief executive of Abbeycroft Leisure, said investigations had been going on for several months into the cause of the leaks and that a 120cm section of lead being removed from the roof was to blame.

She said: "A number of measures have been taken to address the problem, but have not been completely successful. Work has now started to replace the lead section with felt to avoid the problem happening again in the future."

The work was expected to be completed this week.

What a carry on . . .

Sir, On Monday, September 17, I spent 15 minutes on the telephone waiting to make an appointment at the doctor's surgery, only to be told, when I was finally connected, that I was unable to see my doctor or any other doctor as there were no appointments available for the whole of that day.

I therefore ended up visiting Addenbrooke's Accident and Emergency department, where I was told I needed a scan, but they couldn't perform this without me first visiting my doctor, who would then inform the hospital that I would need this scan!

Welcome to the health service merry-go-round.

I shall now be consulting a psychic who can inform me when I shall next be ill so I can book a doctor's appointment well in advance.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College

ALTHOUGH the summer has now officially gone, many students are hard at work and back to the routine of school life, and there have been plenty of events this week.

■ Year 11 had a visit from the local fire service who were giving information to the students about being responsible on the road when they have learned to drive.

We hope they have learned a lot from this and that they will all be safe drivers.

■ Also, there was a careers evening about paths into education and how they can get involved in teaching. This was well attended with many interested people leaving with a good insight into the different ways of being involved in education.

We hope this encouraged the visitors to think about a career in education.

■ Finally, the school is having a visit from a group of teachers from the Netherlands as they observe lessons as well as looking at the school's highly successful art department. We hope the Dutch teachers enjoy their stay at Samuel Ward and that they learn a lot from their visit.

Following their son's dream . . .

PROUD parents Beverley and Chas Vallance are jetting to Australia to support their blind son who is representing England in the World Disability Bowls championships.

The Haverhill couple wouldn't miss the chance to see their boy's dream come true.

Scott Vallance, 39, who went to Samuel Ward Upper School, is flying with his helper Margaret Hannant next week to compete near Sydney.

Scott, who has been a bowler for just five years, said: "It felt like a dream when I was chosen to take part in the world championship. I keep expecting to wake up and find out it never happened at all."

Scott is blind in one eye and has four per cent vision in the other due to a genetic disorder called Choroideremia. As a blind bowler he plays with the aid of a normal sighted person.

But as well as battling with his disability, Scott has worked hard to raise the £7,500 he and Margaret needed to take their place on the bowling rink.

Sponsorship from Haverhill-based businesses, including IFF, AXA Insurance and Marchant Manufacturing, have helped reach that figure.

Beverley and Chas, however, did not think twice about paying their way to see him play.

Beverley, of Roman Way, said: "We could not miss the opportunity to watch Scott achieve his dream. We are extremely proud of our son and would also like to thank all the businesses that helped him to get out there."

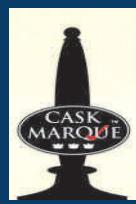

The former Chalkstone Middle School pupil now lives in Norfolk.

He said: "I love the game and I have always dreamed of playing on the international stage. I will be fighting hard to achieve the best result possible not only for me but for all those friends and family, and those organisations supporting me."

Tenants' champion honoured

AT AN age when many would be putting their feet up Muriel Healey is still battling for housing tenants and has just received a special award for her efforts.

Muriel, 87, has been awarded Havebury Housing Partnership's first life presidency as she retired from the board of directors at the group's annual general meeting. She has been honoured for her loyalty, commitment and enthusiasm in representing the tenants' perspective for more than 14 years.

Despite suffering from osteoporosis and two crushed vertebrae, Mrs Healey, of Elmdon Place, Haverhill, is still going strong as a member of Havebury's Tenants Forum and has no plans to stop.

"I will carry on for as long as I can, it keeps me out of mischief," she said.

"It just slows me down a bit, I cannot run any more, but I can still help people and that is what it is all about.

"Things have changed an awful lot since I first started. I remember a house at Poslingford with just a coal fire and no heating in the bedrooms. We have done a lot for the tenants since Havebury took over in 2002. A lot of people have central heating who never had it before. We have replaced a lot of windows and doors."

She added: "I have enjoyed my time as a forum member and as a board director and to become Havebury's first life president is an honour. I'll be continuing my aspirations for Havebury and its tenants in my new role."

Councillor and Havebury board director, Terry Clements, who was chairman when Havebury was formed, said: "Muriel was a real ambassador from the start, she was the rock on which Havebury's strong foundations were built."

Board director Sheila Wormleighton said: "We acknowledge Muriel's commitment, loyalty and dedication to Havebury, to its tenants and to the borough.

"She is very much respected and admired and has been a true ambassador."

Concern for dog's owner

HAVERHILL police are keen to locate the owner of a large bull mastiff dog found wandering in Crowland Road last Thursday afternoon.

Normally police would not circulate details of a found dog, but it is known that the owner is an elderly man who lives somewhere in the area. As the dog was found straying there, police were concerned for the welfare of the owner.

Anyone who knows who he is and where he lives should contact police on (01284) 774100, quoting event 276 of September 27.

Kedington

MONTHLY meetings of the parish council resumed at the library on Tuesday, September 18, following the summer break. Chairman Coun Terry Wheeler welcomed members of the council, borough councillor Marion Rushbrook, P C Brendan McKenna and parishioners who were protesting over the state of the cemetery. The parish council employs the contractors who cut the grass in the site. On behalf of the deputation a letter from a resident was read, it said she had tended the graves of her father and grandparents for 35 years and had never seen the cemetery "in such a mess". Two photographs were enclosed to illustrate the awful condition of the cemetery, compared with the more favourable condition of the main churchyard.

The problems began when a gravestone was damaged by the grass contractors.

The gravestone has since been repaired, but the contractors are now instructed not to cut grass closer than four inches to the graves to avoid damage. This leaves an uncut area around each grave. As many of the old graves have no one to tend them, they have become overgrown with grass and weeds.

Councillors proposed a meeting should be arranged with the grass contractors asking them to revert to the old system, but in the meantime the council will approach Tony Farr, who had expressed an interest in improving the situation.

In response to the polling district review by St Edmundsbury Borough Council, councillors were unanimous that the polling arrangements in the village were adequate.

The owner of land opposite the junction of Dash End Lane and Hundon Road has asked if he can have the tree there inspected to ensure it is safe.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council Planning Department has given permission for a dangerous tree in Dash End Lane to be removed. The landowner has contacted Urban Forestry to have the tree removed. An anonymous letter has been received postmarked Peterborough, asking the parish council to take action about car sales on a piece of common land.

No area was specified, and the clerk has driven all around the village, including Calford Green, but found no evidence of land being churned up as described in the letter.

A parishioner on Westward

Deals has reported a resident repairing cars in the evening, causing congestion with parked cars and blocking access to garages and driveways. Councillors are being asked for their opinions on the situation.

Vandals have broken the "steering board" on the play equipment, which has been repaired by the handyman, but no inspection of the equipment has been carried out by Playworld. Borough councillor Marion Rushbrook reported that the re-organisation of schools was ongoing and various meetings had been arranged.

P C McKenna said he was well aware of the incidents of vandalism that had taken place in the village which involved the school, shops, road signs in Mill Road and damage to the newly erected footway over the river. He said patrols had increased in the village and a meeting had been planned for this week. They were aware of much petty crime in the village and contact numbers for the police were posted in the post office. Kedington news will also be posted on the website. Reports of vandalism are on the increase and one person has been arrested on a charge of stealing lead. Coun John Cahill, chairman of the finance committee, reported on the previous week's meeting which indicated a satisfactory financial position.

Thanks were received from the KCA for a contribution to the new door at the centre. Councillors agreed a donation of £50 to the Royal British Legion for a poppy wreath for Remembrance Sunday and the Poppy Appeal.

A contract for hedge cutting was awarded to Peter Garner. Peter Byron has agreed to help out on a temporary basis as tree warden, but cannot promise to give the commitment that is required.

Councillors unanimously agreed to plant a tree on the Risbridge Meadow in memory of the late borough councillor Geoff Rushbrook.

Councillors agreed the post box on private ground in Silver Street should be moved to a nearby location owned by the parish council. Once again the notice board in School Road has been vandalised and an attempt made to set fire to it. It was proposed to replace it with a metal board which could be locked and fitted with shatterproof glass.

Flooding outside the village store in Silver

Street has become a regular event and it was agreed to contact the highways department to explore the drainage system.

Councillors heard a portable structure at the Limes may have breached planning controls and decisions made by the borough council are awaited. The contractor working on the housing development to the rear of 4, 5 and 6 School Crescent, has made a temporary access in order to build the second bungalow. A telegraph pole will be removed in the near future to develop and construct the access in accordance with the approved plans for the complete development.

A complaint that builders' lorries were creating an obstruction to the highway would be a matter for the police.

Portrait honour for artist

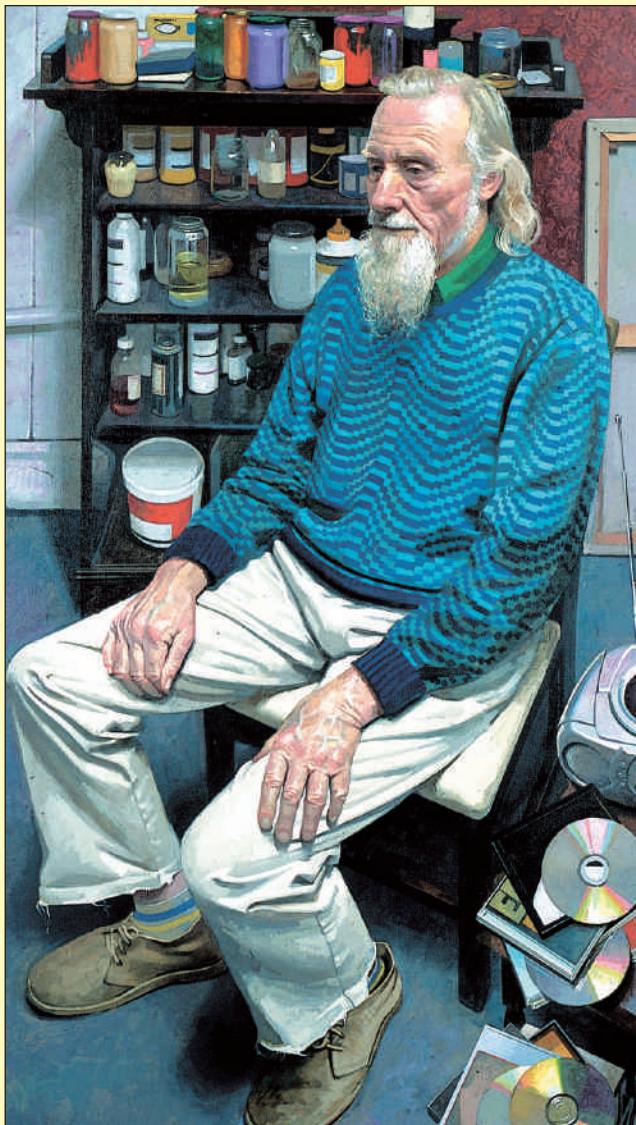

HAVERHILL artist Benjamin Sullivan was among guests at Girton College, Cambridge, to see his painting added to the People's Portraits collection.

The portrait of his friend John McWilliam was unveiled by Sandy Nairne, director of the National Portrait Gallery.

The collection, representing ordinary people from all walks of life, is a permanent exhibition of paintings by members of the Royal Society of Portrait Painters.

Mr Sullivan, 30, has exhibited widely in the UK, including at the National Portrait Gallery and the Royal Academy. He is a member of the Royal Society of Portrait Painters and the New English Art Club. He moved to Haverhill at the beginning of the year from the New Forest.

The People's Portraits Exhibition is open to the public daily from 2-4pm or by appointment.

Folding bike theft

A BIKE left chained up outside a supermarket was gone when the owner came back.

The red folding Raleigh bike was stolen from outside Sainsbury's, in Haycocks Road, Haverhill, where it was chained to itself.

It was taken between 10am and 6pm on September 29. Please call Will Wright at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 if you can help solve this crime.

A PLANNING application for two new petrol pumps, relocation of existing pump and air/water facilities at Sainsbury's supermarket in Haverhill have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

PICK OF THE PETS

THE Stour Valley branch of Cats Protection has a number of cats looking for new homes. Some of the cats arrive as strays, others are unwanted or simply abandoned. Some cats come from loving homes that, due to circumstances, are unable to care for them any longer. When a cat comes in, it is given a complete health check by a vet which includes worming, removing all unsolicited visitors (fleas, earmites, etc) and dental checks, ensuring that when that special home comes along, the animal leaves in the best possible health. The welfare of cats is top priority and the branch always visits prospective owners first to make sure of the best possible home. It is the Cats Protection League's policy never to put a healthy animal down and it welcomes any donation from new owners. If you can offer a home to any of the cats contact (01440) 730096.

Wilson is a real character. He's a very affectionate older boy who adores being brushed, and is just waiting for a lap to curl up on. He's loved by everyone who meets him, but unfortunately he is still waiting for a new home. As Wilson has a minor age-related health problem, Cats Protection will continue to cover his vet bills.

Bootsie is an affectionate, confident girl with lots of personality. She likes nothing more than a cuddle, and would suit a family environment. She is only about a year old, and may possibly be able to live with another cat.

Marley is an eight-month-old neutered male. He is very sweet and playful, and likes to play fetch with his toys. He can be shy when he meets someone for the first time, which has put people off adopting him so far, but given a chance, he'll make a wonderful, loving companion.

Prizes for blooming winners

WINNERS of various competitions organised by the Haverhill in Bloom Committee have picked up their prizes at an awards ceremony.

The event marked the end of a year of hard work for the committee, who have guided the 'in bloom' theme successfully for three years.

During this time they have introduced new initiatives culminating in the announcement of their intention to enter Anglia in Bloom 2008.

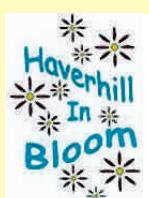

Tim Radford, chairman of Haverhill in Bloom, said: "The awards evening is not only about the 60 or so people who have attended, most of whom are receiving a prize, but for the many others.

"There where those who were not short listed, the volunteers, traders and sellers at the gardeners market, the growers of huge pumpkins and highest sunflowers and the newest unsung heroes - the open gardeners - to name but a few."

Les Ager, deputy town mayor, presented the awards and during the evening £185 raised from the open garden event was presented to Ian Norris from St Nicholas Hospice. "St Nicholas Hospice are supported very well in this region with open gardens," he said. "I am delighted that

CP.

Haverhill has begun to embrace this non-competitive way of showcasing the various gardens within the town. "Thank you to the owners who opened their gardens for the first time. I hope it was enjoyable for you, certainly the feedback from the viewers was very positive."

Judy Wynn, vice president of the East of England region National Association of Flower Arrangement Society, who judged the Floral Art competition at the Haverhill Arts Centre in August, took time at the awards ceremony to congratulate the entrants. "I am always encouraged when I see well run and highly organised events such as this competition," she said.

"Whilst there is some emphasis on winners this evening we should also congratulate all the entrants in all competitions who have put quite some effort into their particular area of Haverhill."

Number of gypsy sites is reduced

BY Rachel Extance

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"We believe our recommendation is a realistic assessment of the need for new caravan pitches up to 2011, which will be provided legally through the planning system and help to tackle the problem of unauthorised sites."

It has not yet decided how pitches will be distributed across Cambridgeshire, Essex, Norfolk, Suffolk, Hertfordshire and Bedfordshire. EERA has been looking at the issue of how to provide for the needs of the gypsy and traveller population and carried out a public consultation earlier this year.

Coun Roy Davis, vice-chairman of the regional planning panel, said: "In making a recommendation for the need for new caravan pitches in the East of England, we have carefully considered the responses to the public consultation, information from local authorities and independent research.

There are two options. One would see pitches distributed where need has been identified and the other would be on the same basis but with a minimum of 15 places in each district.

If the pattern of distribution is agreed, EERA will hold a further three-month public consultation on its draft policy in early 2008. The final policy will be decided by the Government in 2009.

Sites for 37 cameras

BY John Downing

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A TOTAL of 37 cameras would be sited in Cambridge to enforce the proposed congestion charge, it has been revealed.

A ring of 15 cameras would surround the city to record vehicles crossing the congestion zone boundary. A further 22 would be sited within the cordon – with some on residential streets.

In addition, mobile detection vehicles would patrol the city streets to ensure vehicles are detected.

At a presentation to councillors last month, the locations for potentially intrusive gantries from which cameras would point in both directions were identified.

But Cambridgeshire County Council leader Shona Johnstone said the locations were “indicative” only and that the introduction of a congestion charge scheme was dependent on public consultation on the proposals and Government funding.

The council is proposing a charge which would operate both into and out of the city from 7.30am to 9.30am and cost motorists between £3 and £5 a day.

■ CITY CORDON... congestion cameras would be placed on a number of Cambridge roads if the plan to introduce them goes ahead.

Cameras located on the boundary would be on the A1307 Huntingdon Road, Girton Road, B1049 Cambridge Road, Milton Road, Ditton Lane, Newmarket Road, Airport Way, Yarrow Road, Cherry Hinton, Fulbourn Road, Limekiln Road, A1307 Babraham Road, Trumpington High Street, Coton Road, A603 Barton Road and Madingley Road.

Within that cordon are a further 22 proposed sites on major roads such as Cherry Hinton Road, Hills Road, Histon Road and Coldham's Lane. But some sites would be on roads more residential in character, such as Chesterton High Street and Grange Road, Newnham,

The Government has said it will make £500 million available to Cambridge for transport improvements but only if the congestion charge scheme is adopted.

But Coun Lewis Herbert, Labour group leader on Cambridge City Council, which is used as a rat-run. Coun Johnstone said: “These locations would be indicative of what we might do if we went ahead with the scheme. We are such a long way off with details.

He said: “It’s further evidence that the county council has got some kind of done deal. They have a detailed scheme.”

He has criticised the county council for pursuing a “dash for cash” and not providing the city council with details of the options.

And Coun Sian Reid, the city council’s executive member for climate change and growth, said: “I am firmly of the opinion that information should be put in the public domain and I am asking the county council to put it in the public domain.”

At a recent meeting hosted by the Cambridgeshire Chambers of Commerce, Coun Shona Johnstone and deputy chief executive Brian Smith committed to extensive consultations with local businesses over the plans.

But Nick Clarke, chairman of Cambridge’s Federation of Small Businesses, said: “Saying £500 million would only be available with an inclusion of congestion charge to me sounds like bribery. I think if Cambridge needs that infrastructure it should get it.”

A full consultation on the proposed charging scheme is due to start this month.

A spokeswoman for the county council said: “These maps were produced to give an indication of where detection points could be if the council decided to move forward with a charging scheme and as we have said a number of times, no decision to introduce congestion charging has been made.”

She also said the council was planning to submit an outline proposal to the Government for £500 million of funding to pay for transport improvements but stressed that it “did not equate to a decision on congestion charging”.

Demand for a public inquiry

CAMBRIDGE councillors are demanding a public inquiry on congestion charging.

Labour and the Liberal Democrats on Cambridge City Council have put politics aside and called for Cambridgeshire County Council to delay putting in a formal bid to the Government until a transport plan for the city has been produced and a public inquiry has been held.

City councillors also want a joint forum between the county, city and South Cambridgeshire district councils to be set up to consider a transport plan.

Cambridgeshire County Council, which deals with transport issues, is proposing to charge drivers between £3 and £5 to drive in Cambridge between 7.30am and 9.30am. The charge would apply to residents as well as commuters.

Cambridge City Council want to know what the other options are and give the public the opportunity to hear all the arguments before proposals go further.

Coun Lewis Herbert, Labour group leader, said: “It isn’t good enough to have one option put in front of the public or the council.

“There is £500,000 sitting in a piggy bank for public consultation and what better way to spend it than by having a public inquiry.”

Coun John Durrant, Labour, said: “We are making a critical decision which perhaps we will be unable to change in 10 years’ time.”

Cambridge City Council wants the options judged against a series of issues including their impact on CO2 emissions, congestion, and the financial impact on residents and non-residents.

Climb the stairway for top night of Led INDIAN-influenced psychedelic indie stars Kula Shaker play The Junction in Cambridge on their comeback tour on Tuesday. The band's 1997 album, K, was one of the year's biggest sellers and spawned the hits Hey Dude and Tattva. The band earned as many haters as they did fans and soon disappeared from view. They've now got back together and recorded a new album, Strangefolk, which was released in August. Tickets are £15. Call (01223) 511 511 to book.

Chapel date
THE English Arts Chorale will perform a mix of choral and organ music at St John's College Chapel in Cambridge on Saturday. The concert is a tribute to the late Kenneth Scott, a Fellow of St John's, and will raise money for the McKean Fund, which supports the composition of new music. The programme will feature works by composers Ralph Vaughan Williams, Leonard Bernstein and John Rutter.

Tickets are £14. To book call (01223) 503 333. The band also regularly includes a selection of Led Zeppelin's acoustic numbers in their shows.

■ Rising singer/guitar star Kit Holmes makes a welcome return to the arts theatre on Saturday. She originally appeared as a special guest to fellow guitarist John Etheridge, but it quickly became clear that she was far from the junior partner. Enjoy an evening of acoustic music, blues, folk and much more from 8pm. Kit will be running a guitar

If you're a First Time Buyer, £315 per month could be very helpful for that first difficult year of property ownership. For example, a £600 mortgage sounds expensive, make that £285 and it all seems a lot more affordable.

If you're looking at buy-to-let, that £315 could well make the difference between making a profit each month or a loss.

On specific plots at Barnaby Way, the new development in Haverhill, Abbey will pay £315 per month into your bank account every month for a year, no catches, no questions!

To find out more come and visit us on site between 10am and 5pm on Saturday, 20th or Sunday, 21st October. Our sales staff will be able to show you the properties and an independent mortgage advisor will be on hand to give you an idea of what you can borrow and how much repayments will be.

MOTORING

VW: Blue is the new green

WHEN Hobson had his stables in Trumpington Street travellers did not get a choice of horse. You took the one at the end of the line – hence “Hobson’s Choice”.

With Streetcar’s move into Cambridge using the Polo BlueMotion you don’t get much of a choice either – there is one at Queen Anne Terrace and one at Park Street.

But before we go any further I feel the need for a glossary coming on:

Streetcar – A pay as you go car club which means it is no longer necessary for those living in the right place to own a car. You book it online, let yourself into the vehicle and return it when done.

Polo BlueMotion – One of the most fuel efficient cars. Returns a combined fuel consumption of 74.3mpg and emits just 99g/km of CO₂.

Objective – To reduce the number of cars on the streets.

The BlueMotion is outwardly just like any other Polo with three doors. It has a three cylinder 1.4-litre TDi engine with additional fuel economy coming from low rolling resistance tyres much longer gearing in 3rd, 4th and 5th and some weight savings which do not affect safety or durability.

Surprisingly the higher gearing does not make too much difference to overall performance. The car takes off quite smartly and cruises easily. The downside comes when negotiating traffic islands where you either chunter round in third or buzz round in second. There just isn’t an appropriate gear.

But the car can seat five (just) and has a top speed of 109mph. It is available with three or five doors with prices starting at £11,995.

It fits the Streetcar requirements very neatly. Membership is £49.50 a year with the first 30 miles worth of fuel free. The cars are available 24/7 for rent by the hour, day, week or month. At the end of a journey the car is returned to a dedicated parking space and a travel log is automatically sent to Streetcar HQ. If you need to fill up there is a fuel card in the car. If you are late bringing it back without telling HQ you are fined £25 of which £20 goes to the person waiting for it!

In the London area Streetcar is big. You’re never far from a car. In Cambridge, where the system started only a couple of weeks ago, it remains to be seen how it is taken up. Ideally you need to live within ten minutes walk or so of either Park Street or Queen Anne Terrace and that limits it to either University use or neighbourhood residents. If the demand is there the number of sites and cars will be increased.

Information on the Bluemotion Polo is available from your VW dealer. Info on Streetcar is at www.streetcar.co.uk

BASICALLY...

If you wish to go exceptionally green the Bluemotion Polo is kind to the environment and after the initial cost, is kind to your pocket as well. Streetcar rids you of the need to own a car if you are lucky enough to live nearby. Rural travellers will continue to suffer inadequate public transport and overall lack of a transport policy weighted in their favour.

Mini wins low-CO₂ Grand Prix

MINI took the chequered flag in the Autocar 2007 Green Grand Prix with a combination of great economy, low carbon dioxide emissions and the well renowned fun factor.

Tested against some of the UK's most environmentally friendly cars, the Mini Cooper D triumphed in both absolute fuel consumption and how close its fuel consumption got to the manufacturer's claimed figures.

Autocar concluded that it is "A highly entertaining econo-car and an enjoyable way to save." The motoring magazine also stated that the Mini Cooper D is the best way to "save and smile".

Technologies introduced in August 2007 have now pitched the new Mini Cooper D, along with all other Mini models including the recently launched clubman, firmly into hybrid car levels of economy and emissions.

Brake energy regeneration, an instantly responsive stop-start system, and an optimum gear shift indicator push the car towards a combined 72 miles per gallon target.

INVESTOR IN PEOPLE

Philips Domestic Appliances and Personal Care (DAP) believes that even life's most 'ordinary' moments can be special. Our 8,000+ employees in DAP work to create household and personal care devices that imaginatively combine innovative technology with a thorough understanding of what people want. DAP has recently acquired AVENT, the specialist baby feeding company, to enhance its presence in the growing mother and childcare market.

Project Managers

Our R&D group is based in modern offices in Great Abington and our main manufacturing operation, with over 600 employees, is just 25 miles away in Glemsford, Suffolk.

We have great ambitions for the future, having established an exciting product roadmap to grow the company further, and are now seeking to appoint accomplished Project Managers to lead the development teams through all stages of the product creation process.

Working with a team of mechanical and electronics engineers, it will be your responsibility to ensure that products are developed within the agreed features, time and cost specifications and enjoy a smooth introduction into the manufacturing operation.

If you have a proven background of leading at least two projects from the initial discussions with marketing through to production, then we'd like to hear from you. Your career is likely to be founded on an engineering degree and must have included significant experience in a creative role. On the basis of your recent project background, you should also possess the skills and personal maturity to act as a role model for other colleagues.

To apply, please send your CV to our HR Director at Richard.McMullan@philips.com

Delaware are shown trophy exit

DELAWARE'S losing run carried over to cup competition this week as they bowed out of the Suffolk Sunday Trophy. The Angels started very strongly creating several early chances with Sean McCormack and Lewis Townsend going close on several occasions. Delaware were awarded a penalty midway through the first half when Chris Capes was brought down in the area. Captain Craig Foster stepped up to nestle the ball into the corner of the net to give the Angels a much deserved 1-0 lead. Minutes later, Angels went 2-0 up. Some good link-up play in the middle by Matt Cullen and Townsend saw Steve Marks played in on the right flank. His shot, blasted across goal, was turned into the net by a Northcroft defender. After dominating the first half, the Angels looked to build on their lead after the break, however, Northcroft started to up the tempo and soon had a goal back. A fine save from goalkeeper Adam Fielden kept Northcroft at bay, but they got back on level terms at two apiece several minutes later. Disaster struck when a speculative effort from a Northcroft midfielder seemed to be easily fielded by the Delaware keeper. After a terrible misjudgment, however, the ball skidded off his glove and into the net. Northcroft were able to add a final goal 10 minutes from the end to finish it 4-2. It could have been so much more, however, good play by Simon Morley and Dan Pilbrow prevented any further damage.

Wrattting pegged back at the death

YELLOWS took to the field determined to put behind them the defeat of the previous game.

They started well, with Liam Gibbs threading a ball to Jack Harvey, who battled well against his defender and found Charlie Ellam, who, after outpacing his marker, coolly slammed the ball into the bottom corner.

The goal made the visitors raise their game and Wrattting's midfield of Scott Bishop and Jake Murphy were kept busy helping defenders Callum Dray and Liam Gibbs.

With four substitutions, it was hoped that a second goal would follow, and, just before half time it did.

A combination of hard graft and neat passing, involving Charlie Ripp, Dion Whitrid and Matt Carpenter, saw the ball fall to Leyton George, who neatly finished.

The opening period of the second half saw the Wrattting keeper James Woodward make a couple of good saves, but generally his team seemed in control.

The pre-planned reshuffle at the back saw boys playing in unaccustomed positions, which was intended to aid their football knowledge.

Unfortunately, this move did not quite work as Elsenham scored.

Despite the late setback, it was a fantastic Wrattting display, with plenty of battling and passing, which is what was asked for by their coaches before the game.

Wrattting's man-of-the-match was Callum Dray.

Wrattting: James Woodward, Liam Gibbs, Callum Dray, Matt Carpenter, Jack Harvey, Jake Murphy, Leyton George, Charlie Ellam, Charlie Ripp, Dion Whitrid, Scott Bishop.

WRATTING took the game to Plantation from the start, but found the visitors to be in a determined mood.

Despite all the possession, Wrattting found themselves a goal down when a quick breakaway was expertly converted.

This seemed to stir the home team into life and two goals from Alex Carter and a magnificent individual run from his own half by William Bailey saw Wrattting into a 3-1 half time lead.

The second period followed the same pattern and some heroic defending and goalkeeping kept the scoreline down until Wrattting fired a quick double in the last five minutes with Carter completing a splendid hat-trick and Bailey firing his second.

Wrattting: Ben Eames, Sam Street, Sean Elsom, Paul Jenkinson, Stephen Boyles, Cameron Kidd, Joshua Ruthven, Alex Carter, Josh Osuchukwu, William Bailey.

WRATTING put the Colts under pressure from the kick off and, within minutes, Bush scored an individual effort.

Within seconds of coming on as a substitute, Payne rattled in his fifth of the season after Lambert and Stevenson carved open the defence.

Scotton intercepted and fed Stevenson well, he set up Lambert, who fired in smartly for Wrattting's third.

Scott Ankers stepped on to the field for his first match and provided an inspiring display, having a shot saved well and a free kick that flashed just over the bar.

Soon it was Stevenson's turn again, providing the fourth after a fine move.

Girton then rolled up their sleeves and fired in two goals in quick succession, which was much reward for their spirit in midfield.

Simpson hammers hat-trick as Withersfield continue bright start

WITHERSFIELD Youth U11 have got their season off to a flying start, winning their first three league matches 12-1, 4-0 and 15-1.

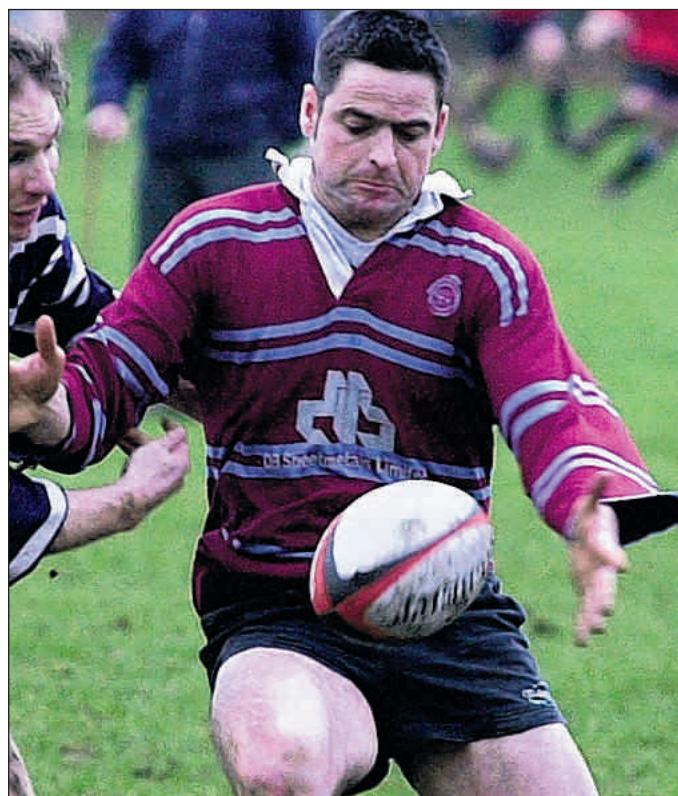

With talented new additions strengthening their existing competent squad, the side is already showing consistent, effective team play and a promising start to the new league campaign.

Sunday saw continued success with a resounding win; 6-3 against Arbury Aces in round one of the league cup.

The match started with some good even play and some great saves from Withersfield's Harry Tinniswood. Fifteen minutes into the match Withersfield conceded a goal, but fought back to grab an equaliser from Liam Roberts. A great goal followed from Murray Barker, closely followed by another, slotted in by Jake Simpson, securing a 3-1 lead at half time. A closely-fought and fast-paced second half, with some strong challenges from Oliver Fish, saw three more goals from Withersfield. The first came from Jake Simpson, following a great cross from Liam Roberts, followed by another from Simpson, securing a well-deserved hat-trick and a well-placed effort from Henley Kennedy, set up by Mitchell Burr. Aces fought back with two more goals, but Withersfield's strong team play ensured they finished the victors. Withersfield are sponsored by Abington Motors, Connolly Refrigeration Ltd. and i2 Ltd.

■ BACK IN THE FOLD ... Mark Jury, who came out of retirement to bolster Haverhill's depleted squad on Saturday.

Haverhill's horror show

A GAME of fits and starts sent a depleted Haverhill side spiralling to defeat on Saturday.

Mark Jury, called out of retirement, kicked two penalties for Haverhill, whose skipper Dave Quinney groaned: "It was absolutely horrendous."

"It was a disappointing performance as we played in fits and starts. We had the better of them in the first half, but we missed a lot of tackles in the midfield area as they came through the centres."

FOOTBALL: ROVERS MAKE FIVE-STAR FA CUP EXIT

Hitchin Town 5 Haverhill Rovers 0

FA CUP, SECOND QUALIFYING ROUND REPLAY

STEVE Taylor's Haverhill conceded four second-half goals as their FA Cup hopes were shattered by a rampant Hitchin Town.

Rovers held their Southern League opponents to a creditable 1-1 draw at Hamlet Croft on Saturday, but found themselves a goal down in Tuesday night's replay after just two minutes.

Colin Vowden could have equalised with a header as the visitors held out for an hour, but three quick goals – including one which had a hint of offside about it – put the match beyond them. Defender Vowden also went close when he got a touch on Wayne Goddard's free-kick.

But with almost the last kick of the game, Marc Abbott gave away a penalty and goalkeeper Aaron Benstead was beaten for the fifth time.

It was a far cry from Saturday when Vowden came within inches of a late goal which would have given Haverhill the win.

But his header four minutes from time went agonisingly wide. Rovers went in front on 25 minutes when a Wayne Goddard long throw was flicked in by Andy Palazon.

But the visitors replied five minutes before half time. Rovers pushed on for the winner, with Hunt's flick going untouched across the goalmouth on 80 minutes before Vowden went close from Joe Harvey's corner.

Haverhill return to Ridgeons League action on Saturday when they host CRC.

■ OUT OF LUCK... Colin Vowden (in red) went close in both Cup games.

Westley set to take on the world

TOM Westley is looking forward to pitting his wits against the most talented young cricketers on the planet after being named in England's squad for the ICC Under-19s World Cup.

The 18-year-old Weston Colville all-rounder, who plays his club cricket for Saffron Walden, signed a new two-year contract with Essex last week.

And the teenager is over the moon to have received his second piece of good news in a matter of days and thinks England can win the tournament in Malaysia which gets under way on February 17.

Westley said: "I'm chuffed to bits – it's a dream come true."

"I'm delighted and I'm really looking forward to going out to Malaysia and hopefully winning the World Cup."

"I'm probably being looked at as an all-rounder and I'd like to think I'd bowl the majority of my overs in every game."

"It will be very testing because of the temperatures, but we don't want to go there with a negative attitude. A lot of us have played first-class cricket and have the experience under our belts, so we'll have to see what happens." Westley, who played for the Under-19s in one Test and five one-day internationals against Pakistan this summer, will join the 14-man squad for a team building camp in Wales later this month.

And the youngster will be honing his skills at the Paul Terry Cricket Academy in Perth, Australia for two months in the build-up to the event. He heads off Down Under later this month and will remain there until mid-December.
